Academic Catalog Information

Course Description: This course is a continuation of Communications I. Students will continue to develop interpretive and communications skills, aiming to advance beyond mechanics into greater degrees of homiletical maturity. Special emphasis is given to the preparation of homilies for weddings and funerals.

Prerequisite: PT510 (Communications I) is a prerequisite to PT522 (Communications II). It “introduces the theological framework and basic skills required for interpreting and communicating the Bible within the context of the church’s ministry (both formal and informal).

Timing: Communications II is designed to be taken in a student’s senior year, with the assumption that both Hebrew and Greek courses have been completed. Students hoping to receive maximum benefit from Communications II should complete the majority of their biblical and systematic courses prior to this class.

Preaching Laboratory II: Comm. II is usually taken in conjunction with PT524 (Preaching Lab II). The catalog description for PT524 states that “Students will preach multiple sermons. Women and other non-ministerial candidates will substitute additional elective course hours for all Preaching Labs.” Although these two courses are usually packaged together, I welcome all students to take PT522 (Comm. II) for credit, whether or not they are able or interested in taking PT524 (Preaching Lab II). It should also be noted that the RTS DC registrar will assist non-ministerial candidates in finding an alternative course or independent study suited to replace PT524.

Course overview

Goals:

This course intends to facilitate the achievement of the following goals:

- Greater Competency in creating Christ-centered sermons and homilies that are faithful to the biblical text and sensitive to the redemptive-historical contours of scripture.
- Greater competence in creating doctrinally rich sermons and homilies that are both clear and compelling for listeners from various ethnic, racial, cultural, and spiritual backgrounds.
- Sharpening the Christ-centered instincts of the student as it pertains to biblical interpretation, gospel proclamation, and congregational formation.
- Encouraging greater freedom and confidence in proclaiming the excellencies of Christ; specifically through the student's own personality, gifts, and experience of union with Christ.
- To foster pastoral reflection and awareness that goes beyond the individual sermon, giving thought to the sermon series and a broader preaching ministry as well.
- To foster pastoral reflection upon the individual sermon, the sermon series, and the long-term preaching ministry of a pastor.

Class Format:

The majority of class hours will be spent in lecture and in guided discussion based upon assigned reading. Each student will be expected to come to class prepared to critically engage the material and contribute to the guided discussions. As with most things in life, the more effort you put into your preparation, the more benefit you will take away. We will seek to foster an encouraging, truthful, and gracious environment in our class discussions, keeping in mind that our every meeting is yet another occasion to obey the great commandment: "You shall love the Lord your God with all your heart and with all your soul and with all your strength and with all your mind, and your neighbor as yourself." - Luke 10:27

Late Assignments: Late assignments will be dropped one grade on the above scale for each week they are late. For example, an assignment that is four weeks late will be dropped from an A to a B-. Late and Missing assignments are the primary reason for low course grades.

The grade "I" indicates that the work required for the course was not completed. It is given only when special, extenuating circumstances (such as illness) prevent the student from completing the work or taking the examination. A written request for an extension must be submitted prior to the due date of the work concerned. If the request is granted, it remains the responsibility of the student to complete all work for the course as soon as possible. In any case, an "I" grade must be removed within the extension time granted; otherwise it will be changed to "F."
